Food waste

Everyday about 20 million slices of bread are thrown away in UK homes. This could have been breakfast for 10 million people. And, laid end-to-end, the bread waste of 365 days could circle the Earth 28 times!

Around 3 million glasses of milk are chucked away in the UK each day. This means that, every year, 36,500 cows are producing milk that is going down the drain.

At least one-third of all edible food produced across the world is never eaten – enough food to feed 2 billion people. That's just over a quarter of the world's population!

When we waste food, we waste all the energy and resources that go into producing. This is bad for our environment.

Act it out!

① Read the text. Find three friends and act out the dialogues.

- Pete: Hey, you all! Have you heard about our food waste problem?
- Sage: Hi Pete! Yes, I have heard about it. We waste so much of our food each day!! Horrible.
- Timothy: I did not know about it... I always throw the rest of my food away and now I feel bad.
- Maeve: Hello all. It is such a silly problem, right? We throw our food away while other children and their bellies are hungry.
- Pete: And it is bad for the environment. My mom buys food for our family and it is always too much. Some of it we have to throw away.
- Sage: I talked to my parents about their food waste. They were shocked that our planet suffers because of their behaviour.
- Timothy: But how can we stop our food waste? I can talk to my parents, yes. But what can they do to change their waste?
- Maeve: Tim, it is so easy! Look, tell your mom she just has to buy the food she needs for her meals. Not more than that! And...
- Pete: And your dad can take your leftovers from lunch or dinner to work! That's what my dad does. He likes his leftovers!
- Sage: Everything starts with us. We have to stop wasting food. Then others will, too. If I change, my family will do the same.
- Timothy: I heard about Greta Thunberg. She changed her lifestyle to help save our planet.
- Maeve: Oh yes, Greta! She did it the hard way and stopped everything that could be bad for our planet. Is there maybe an easier way than her way?
- Pete: I think there is. Let us all pay more attention our food waste.
- Sage: And only buy what we need.
- Timothy: And talk to our friends and parents about it.
- Maeve: And if we have more ideas, we can chat about their effect!
